

108TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

H. CON. RES. 482

Recognizing and celebrating the abolition of slavery more than 150 years ago in the Latin American countries of Mexico, Chile, Uruguay, Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, Argentina, Peru, and Venezuela, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JULY 22, 2004

Mr. MEEKS of New York (for himself, Mrs. CHRISTENSEN, Ms. LEE, Mr. RUSH, Mr. RANGEL, and Mr. CUMMINGS) submitted the following concurrent resolution; which was referred to the Committee on International Relations

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Recognizing and celebrating the abolition of slavery more than 150 years ago in the Latin American countries of Mexico, Chile, Uruguay, Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, Argentina, Peru, and Venezuela, and for other purposes.

Whereas the institution of slavery was a key factor in the social, historical, and economic development of a majority of the countries of Latin America;

Whereas it is estimated that between 1518 and 1870 more than 5,000,000 enslaved blacks from Africa were brought to Latin America;

Whereas Portugal brought the largest number of enslaved blacks from Africa to Latin America, primarily to Brazil;

Whereas enslaved blacks formed the primary labor force in Latin American countries and worked to produce sugar, tobacco, coffee, and other products;

Whereas beginning in the 1820s and ending in the 1850s, the majority of Latin American countries—Mexico, Chile, Uruguay, Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, Argentina, Peru, and Venezuela—abolished slavery and Brazil abolished slavery in 1888;

Whereas many individuals and groups aided in the emancipation of enslaved blacks in Latin America, including Zumbi of Brazil, who led enslaved blacks against the Portuguese in Quilombo dos Palmares, Brazil; Juan Adresote, who fought Spanish colonizers in Venezuela; Yanga, a Nigerian who was brought to Mexico and enslaved, and who negotiated with Spanish colonists in Mexico; and Benkos Bioho of Colombia, who helped to establish a liberated community of former enslaved blacks in Colombia, one of the first such communities in the Americas;

Whereas, even after the abolition of slavery in Latin American countries, former enslaved blacks and their descendants were left victim to social and institutional racial discrimination; and

Whereas, as a result of slavery in Latin America, the descendants of enslaved blacks currently comprise approximately 30 percent of the population in Latin American countries and continue to greatly impact the social, political, and cultural environment in Latin America: Now, therefore, be it
